442: Live with Honor, Die with Dignity is an award-winning documentary film about the Japanese-American experience during WWII. The 442nd Regimental Combat Team was mainly composed of Japanese-Americans who not only fought against enemy soldiers on the frontlines of the war, but against prejudice and severe discrimination at home.

Even in the face of these challenges, they eagerly volunteered to fight for a country that had branded them as enemies. Overcoming these adversities, the 442nd became one of the most decorated regiments in the history of the United States military. Relatively unknown to both Japanese and Americans, 442 aims to preserve and pass down the incredible stories of these remarkable men.

Registration is required.

Limited number of tickets for USA viewers only.

Ticket sales open on Sunday, June 12 at 11:00AM EDT.

Screening period is from Friday, June 24 to
